David Vine: Bases of War

Friday, October 12, 2018, 1:30-2:30 pm
4801 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Room 601 (6th Floor)

This October, the United States will have waged war continuously for 17 years. Contrary to popular belief, there's nothing exceptional about this period. David Vine notes that the US has waged war during nearly every year of its existence. He will discuss the relationship between the US and war, and how American war-making has been enabled by the growth of a global collection of nearly 1,000 US military bases located in about 80 foreign nations.

David Vine is Professor of Anthropology at American University. He is the author of Base Nation: How U.S. Military Bases Overseas Harm America and the World, and Island of Shame: The Secret History of the US Military Base on Diego Garcia. He has also written for The New York Times, the Washington Post, Guardian, Mother Jones, and The Chronicle of Higher Education, among others.
