Zoom On Camera Reminder

As a reminder, when you are in a Zoom class, anything you do or say can be seen and heard by all in the class if you haven't unmuted yourself and/or turned off your camera. Please keep this in mind when in your classes and make sure to mute yourself and turn off your camera when needed.

Zoom Links: New Feature

Members can now easily access class zoom links by logging onto their online account on the OLLI website. Once logged on, you will see the Overview page for your account which shows all your registered classes. Look under each class to see the Zoom link for that class. ## October 14 Serendipity Talk

You Are Not American: Citizenship Stripping from Dred Scott to the Dreamers

Amanda Frost

Thursday, October 14

3:30-4:30 PM (via Zoom)

We think of our citizenship as immutable—as much a part of our identity as our height or eye color. But as law professor Amanda Frost has discovered, the US government regularly revoked citizenship to suppress dissent and deny civil rights to all considered “un-American.” Women who married noncitizens, persecuted racial groups, labor leaders, and political activists were all stripped of their citizenship, and sometimes deported, by a government who denied their membership in “We the People.” Drawing on the narratives of those who lost their citizenship and fought to get it back, Frost will describe a hidden history of discrimination and xenophobia that continues to this day.

Amand Frost is the Bronfman Distinguished Professor Law and Government at American University, where she writes and teaches in the fields of constitutional, immigration, and citizenship law. Her recently-published book You Are Not American: Citizenship Stripping from Dred Scott to the Dreamers was listed by the New York Times book review as a “New & Noteworthy” book. (The book is available for purchase here). In addition to her academic writing, she frequently publishes in mainstream publications such as The Atlantic, The Washington Post, The New York Times, The New Republic, Slate, and The American Prospect. She is a regular columnist for SCOTUSblog, the leading blog covering the U.S. Supreme Court.

No registration is required. The Zoom link will be e-mailed the morning of the talk to all those subscribed to the OLLI newsletter.
